I oppose the proposed final judgment between the Justice Dept. and Microsoft. Of the many problems I see with the PFJ, I believe the one of greatest concern is that under the PFJ Microsoft retains and will continue to exercise the power to use its dominant control over the operating system for the desktop to maintain existing barriers to the entry by ISVs of application software, and raise new barriers to ISVs of application software against which Microsoft choses to compete. For that, and other reasons, I oppose the PFJ.
